For Epicenter Press

We welcome nonfiction and fiction submissions that relate to Alaska and the Pacific Northwest: biography & memoir, history, humor, life in the North, Native American culture, true crime. We seek well-written, fast-paced, absorbing, compelling, and entertaining nonfiction including memoir and fiction manuscripts. We currently do not publish poetry, young adult or children's titles. Please query: info@epicenterpress.com

Coffeetown Press

We are looking for: Strong voices in literary fiction, mysteries, historical fiction. We prefer the word count to be between 70,000 and 100,000. We only consider literary fiction with a story that has a distinctive voice. If the author has a developed author platform please include that information. We do not publish young adult or childrens books. Please query: jennifer@coffeetownpress.com

For Camel Press

We are looking for distinctive voices in genre fiction: mystery/suspense, cozy mystery, mystery thrillers, romantic suspense, and romance (contemporary and historical). We also consider general fiction, historical fiction, and westerns. Please include your promotional plans. Your story must have likable characters and a satisfying ending. Series proposals are welcome. We prefer the word count to be between 70,000 and 100,000. We do not publish young adult or childrens books. Please query: jennifer@coffeetownpress.com.

DISCLAIMERS:

- We do not consider new books that have already been published in any format, including eBook only. We do welcome reprints from established authors of titles that are currently out of print, unless they are already available in any eBook formats. Please have proof ready that the rights have reverted to you.
- If you have signed a contract with another publisher, please let us know.
- Do not submit manuscripts via a bulk email messaging service such as SendGrid, MailChimp, etc. None of these services can follow our submission guidelines.

Thanks for your cooperation. Authors and agents following our submission guidelines helps us review material more efficiently. Unagented and agent submissions are welcome. We discourage multiple submissions, but authors should keep us informed if a manuscript is no longer available.

Generally, if we decline a manuscript, we felt it wasn't a fit for any of the publishing imprints. If you do not hear back from us, please understand that the sheer volume of queries can be overwhelming, please query us after four months and resend the query letter.
